

8th International Nursing Conference

This is the secretariat of 8th International Nursing Conference. This biennial conference takes place in Seoul, from October 27 to 28 this year, under the theme of "Nursing Education: New Paradigm for Global Environment."

International Nursing Conference has been successful since the first conference in 2001, gathering the participation of more than 500 internationally renowned scholars, professionals, and leaders in the nursing field every year. The 8th International Nursing Conference will be a great opportunity to share and discuss various nursing education issues and policies and build better nursing education system around the world. World's prominent scholars such as Christine A Tanner, professor at Oregon Health & Science University, will participate in this congress and share their insight into the nursing education. We are currently arranging various sessions, panel discussions, poster exhibitions and other programs. We are certain that it will be a beneficial and productive conference to all our participants

With respect to this, we would like to cordially request you to distribute the attached newsletter to the members of your association. You can acquire more information at our website, <http://www.inc2011.org>. You could also submit your enquiries regarding our conference through e-mail at secretariat@inc2011.org.

We are certain that your continual support and co-operation will consolidate bilateral relationship between the two countries.
